POPE LEO CONTINUES HIS CATECHESIS ON THE DOCUMENTS OF THE SECOND VATICAN COUNCIL. (By Deborah Castellano Lubov <https://www.vaticannews.va/en/pope/news/2026-01/pope-at-audience-21-january-2026.html>).

During his weekly General Audience, Pope Leo XIV reminds the faithful that nothing can separate us from the love of Christ, as he continues his catechesis on the Dogmatic Constitution 'Dei Verbum' on Divine Revelation.

“Thanks to Jesus, Christians know God the Father and entrust themselves to Him with confidence.” Pope Leo XIV expressed this during his Wednesday General Audience, as he continued his catechesis series on the Second Vatican Council. He concentrated again this week on the Dogmatic Constitution Dei Verbum on Divine Revelation, which the Pope last week called “one of the most beautiful and important” documents of the Council.

The Pope recalled that we have seen that God reveals Himself in a dialogue of covenant, in which He addresses us as friends. It is therefore a relational knowledge, which not only communicates ideas but also shares a history and calls for communion in reciprocity. The fulfillment of this revelation, he explained, takes place in a historical and personal encounter in which God Himself gives Himself to us, making Himself present, and in which we discover that we are known in our deepest truth.

“It is what happens in Jesus Christ,” said Pope Leo, as he recalled that Dei Verbum states, “The deepest truth about God and the salvation of man shines out for our sake in Christ, who is both the mediator and the fullness of all revelation.” The Pope stressed that Jesus reveals the Father to us by involving us in His own relationship with Him. In the Son sent by God the Father, “humanity might in the Holy Spirit have access to the Father and come to share in the divine nature.”

Therefore, he explained, “we reach full knowledge of God by entering into the Son’s relationship with His Father, by virtue of the action of the Spirit.” “Thanks to Jesus,” Pope Leo said, “we know God as we are known by Him.” Indeed, in Christ, he recalled, “God has communicated Himself to us, and, at the same time, He has manifested to us our true identity as His children, created in the image of the Word.”

The Pope recalled St. Matthew's Gospel, in which Jesus reassures, "Your Father, who sees in secret, will reward you," and adds that "your Father knows that you need all these things." Jesus Christ, the Pope said, is the place where we recognize the truth of God the Father, while at the same time we discover ourselves known by Him as sons in the Son, called to the same destiny of full life.

He then quoted Saint Paul’s Letter to the Galatians: “When the fullness of time had come, God sent His Son ... so that we might receive adoption as children. And because you are children, God has sent the Spirit of His Son into our hearts, crying, ‘Abba! Father!’”

SAVE THE DATE: FISH-FRY & TRIMMINGS DINNER

This Week's Message:

"Lay people also fulfill their prophetic mission by evangelization, 'that is, the proclamation of Christ by word and the testimony of life.' For lay people, 'this evangelization... acquires a specific property and peculiar efficacy because it is accomplished in the ordinary circumstances of the world.'

"This witness of life, however, is not the sole element in the apostolate; the true apostle is on the lookout for occasions of announcing Christ by word, either to unbelievers... or to the faithful."

(Catechism of the Catholic Church, 905)
