KJT District VIII will hold its annual Family Day Sunday April 14, 2024 at Bowers Lake, near Caldwell, with festivities beginning at 1:00. We will be having fishing and other fun activities. We will also have a short district meeting. Bait will be available and drinks will be furnished. Bring a desert and a meal will be provided and served at 4:00pm. The district wants everyone to come out and enjoy themselves. Guests are welcome.

Knights of Columbus Council #11277 is accepting applications for our annual Scholarship Awards.

Submissions are due by May 15, 2024. Contact Eddie Kmiec at 979-277-8815.

Divine Mercy Sunday Celebration: This Sunday, April 7 at 2:30 pm at St. Mary Immaculate Conception in Brenham. The Celebration will consist of Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament, the Chaplet of Divine Mercy, St. Faustina's healing prayer, and a Consecration of families to the Divine Mercy. It will also include veneration of St. Faustina's relics. Join us afterward at the Grinder's house for great food and fellowship (3637 Old Chappell Hill Rd., Brenham).

Bazaar 2024: this year will be on September 1st!

Typically, our two largest money makers at the Bazaar are the Raffle and the Grand Auction. With that in mind, we are asking for donations for those two areas; (we don't need your item(s) or cash donation immediately, just your commitment!).

If you would like to donate on the Raffle Ticket, contact Virginia (979-836-0080) and for the Auction, contact Crystal (979-251-4048).

APRIL 11TH IS A FEAST DAY OF SAINT STANISLAUS, BISHOP AND MARTYR (in Poland his Feast Day is on the 8th of May). ST. STANISLAUS (Święty Stanislaw) is a patron saint of the Church and of the parish in Chappell Hill, Texas

He was born July 26, 1030 (on the feast of St. Ann) in Szczepanów, Poland. He began his studies at home, but finished them at Paris with great renown. When he returned home, his parents were dead and as he had determined to go into a monastery to serve God, he divided his fortune among the poor. Lambert however, bishop of Krakow, Poland, on becoming acquainted with his talents and knowledge, saw how great would be his influence among the clergy, and persuaded him to receive, a canonicate. After being invested with this dignity, Stanislaus led so blameless and holy a life that, on the death of Lambert, he was unanimously chosen his successor. The humble man was very unwilling to accept the honor, but he was equally zealous in fulfilling his duties when, being obliged to comply, he had been duly consecrated. He personally visited every parish in his bishopric and was unwearied in assisting his flock in all their temporal as well as spiritual wants. It was said by every one that the bishop's revenues belonged to the poor.

He was extremely rigorous towards his own person and seldom divested himself of his penitential robe. He kept an almost continued fast and in short lived in such a manner that he was called throughout the land the holy Bishop.

At that period, the king of Poland was Boleslaus II, who was hated and despised by every one on account of his cruelty and great immorality. As no one else dared to censure his vicious conduct, Stanislaus fearlessly exposed to him the scandal which he gave to others, and exhorted him, with tears in his eyes and upon bended knees, to reform. The King promised to follow the bishop's admonition, but instead of so doing, his conduct became worse than ever. Among other vicious deeds, he abducted the wife of a nobleman and kept her to the great indignation of the whole nobility. Stanislaus went to the King a second time, and like John the Baptist, conjured him most solemnly to change his scandalous life, remonstrating with him on the enormity of his crime in living with another man's wife. Boleslaus, enraged at this, turned away from him, resolved to put the severe lecturer out of the way.

On April 11 1079 (aged 48) wild with rage, the King rushed into the chapel and running towards the bishop who stood officiating before the holy Altar, he clove his head with one stroke of his sword, and the Saint sank dead upon the ground. Having had the body dragged out of the Chapel, the King caused it to be cut in pieces, and gave orders that it should be left a prey to the birds. But Divine Providence decreed otherwise. Four large eagles guarded the mangled members of the holy body until some persons, taking courage, laid them together with the intention of burying them. A new miracle, however, took place. By the power of the Most High, the members were joined in such a manner that the entire body of the Saint was lying before the eyes of those who had come to take it away. All present thanked God and praised the Saint's fearlessness and constancy. They laid the body in a grave before the door of the Chapel where he had received the Crown of Martyrdom. Ten years later, the sacred remains were transferred to the Cathedral of Cracow. During the ten years that the body lay before the Chapel-door, bright, heavenly, lights were seen upon it, with which God glorified his faithful servant upon earth.

This Week's Message:

“The transmission of the Christian faith consists primarily in proclaiming Jesus Christ in order to lead others to faith in him. From the beginning, the first disciples burned with the desire to proclaim Christ: ‘We cannot but speak of what we have seen and heard.’ And they invite people of every era to enter into the joy of their communion with Christ:

‘That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, and which we have looked upon and touched with our hands, concerning the word of life—the life was made manifest, and we saw it, and testify to it, and proclaim to you the eternal life which was with the Father and was made manifest to us—that which we have seen and heard we proclaim also to you, so that you may have fellowship with us; and our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ. And we are writing this that our joy may be complete.’” Jn 1:1-4 (Catechism of the Catholic Church, 425)
