Thoughts for Meditation

July is the month of the Precious Blood of Jesus.
The Precious Blood of Jesus is a clear example of the parts of our faith that seem completely simple, and yet if we spend any time contemplating them, we soon find ourselves swimming in very deep waters indeed.

The blood is the life, and the life is in the blood. So said ancient Israel; this is why, according to the kosher laws, slaughtered animals must have the blood completely drained.

In God, life ("I am who am") and love are one and the same. To be, for Him, is to love. He is relationship. He is love. He is endless giving and receiving, the Beginning and the End. He is an endless dance.

All our relationships here below are some small imitation, some pale shadow, of the three eternal persons who are one God. We resemble them; they do not resemble us. The higher does not resemble the lower; the lower resembles the higher. And yet — and yet, the Son became man. God became one of us. Spirit took on flesh. The higher went lower.

This was incomprehensible to the devil and his angels, and so they fell. This is a mystery to the holy angels, and so they praise God for His infinite mercy, His infinite mystery, and before the greatest of mysteries, are silent.

And one of the greatest mysteries is that we become members of the Body of Christ, grafted branches on the Vine descending from Heaven. We share in the life, the sap of God, in His divinity by way of His humanity.

Saint Faustina talked about the consequences of this, that the human heart has become a home for God, as it had been intended to be from the foundation of the world.

O Blessed Host, take up Your dwelling within my soul,

O Thou my heart's purest love!

With Your brilliance the darkness dispel.

Refuse not Your grace to a humble heart.

O Blessed Host, enchantment of all heaven,

Though Your beauty be veiled

And captured in a crumb of bread,

Strong faith tears away that veil

(Diary of Saint Maria Faustina Kowalska, 159).

This month of the Precious Blood, let's spend some time contemplating the mystery of the Eucharist. Let's ponder how the life and love of God is transmitted to us under the appearances of bread and wine, and how the fire from outside of time is introduced into our hearts, into our very bodies. We share in God's grace, God's own existence, through the generosity of the Almighty. Let's not take that gift for granted.

THIS WEEK'S MESSAGE

"Without the help of grace, men would not know how to 'discern the often narrow path between the cowardice which gives in to evil, and the violence which under the illusion of fighting evil only makes it worse'. This is the path of charity, that is, of the love of God and of neighbor. Charity is the greatest social commandment. It respects others and their rights. It requires the practice of justice, and it alone makes us capable of it. Charity inspires a life of self-giving: 'Whoever seeks to gain his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life will preserve it.'"

(Catechism of the Catholic Church, 1889)

Certification is good for 2 years, so if your previous certification has expired, you should have it renewed.

We will need a headcount for attendees, so if you plan to attend, contact the parish office at 979-836-3030, or Kelvin Mikolajchak at 979-277-2906.
