Baptism in Greek means dipping in Latin; it is called dipping because man is thereby changed for the better by the spirit of grace, and becomes something far different than what he was.... Just as the outer body is cleansed by water, so by its mysterious effects the soul is secretly purified through the Holy Spirit. St. Isidore: Etymologies, 6, 19 (7th century)

This Week's Message:

"John the Baptist is 'more than a prophet.' In him, the Holy Spirit concludes his speaking through the prophets. John completes the cycle of prophets begun by Elijah. He proclaims the imminence of the consolation of Israel; he is the 'voice' of the Consoler who is coming. As the Spirit of truth will also do, John 'came to bear witness to the light.' In John's sight, the Spirit thus brings to completion the careful search of the prophets and fulfills the longing of the angels. 'He on whom you see the Spirit descend and remain, this is he who baptizes with the Holy Spirit. And I have seen and have borne witness that this is the Son of God.... Behold, the Lamb of God.'"

(Catechism of the Catholic Church, 719)
